SUMMARY

I'm a driven Data Analytics student with hands-on experience working with datasets, building dashboards, and applying statistical models to solve real-world problems. Through projects like Sales Forecasting, Customer Segmentation, and a News Summarizer Web App, I've learned how to turn raw numbers into insights that actually matter. With skills in SQL, Python, and Tableau, and a strong base in Statistics and Data Visualization, I genuinely enjoy spotting patterns in data and transforming them into solutions that help guide smarter decisions.
